Revised Common Lectionary

14th SUNDAY after PENTECOST

James tells us to 'be doers of the word, and not merely hearers who deceive themselves. For if any are hearers of the word and not doers, they are like those who look at themselves in a mirror; for they look at themselves and, on going away, immediately forget what they were like'. James wants us to let what we have heard impel us into action. No sitting in the pews not letting the Spirit into our lives to disturb us. He wants us to 'welcome with meekness the implanted word that has the power to save [our] souls and then get out and do something for God.

Send your Spirit to us, Lord, that we might find ourselves disturbed into action for the sake of your kingdom
Give thanks for the work and witness of the Church of South India.

Martyrs of New Guinea

Thursday 2 September

St Paul's famous passage, 'I am convinced that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor rulers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord', tells us that there is absolutely nothing that can stand between us and God's love. Nothing. Nichts. Nada. As Christians, surely not only should we feel that amazing, never-ending love, but we should radiate it out to others.

Pray that you might radiate God's love to everyone you encounter this week.

Give thanks for the work and witness of the Anglican Church of Papua New Guinea.
